Now that you have made up your mind on what, who, where, how and when of your story, penning down the first line is an equal struggle as that of finalising the above elements of the story writing format. Looking for the right story writing topic is an important part of the process. Try to establish your narrative in a shorter time frame. You can put innovate and think out of the box and make any event, idea or even a thing your protagonist. This blog brings a comprehensive guide on story writing format , story writing topics and narrative writing format for Class 9 and 10 which you must practice to ace this section in your English examination. Story Writing Format, Topics, and Tips PDF Quick Read: Letter Writing What is Story Writing? Concise and Short: Adhere to the word limit provided for writing the story and weave an interesting narrative within the limit. Dalloway said she would buy the flowers herself.”- Mrs Dalloway, Virginia Woolf “As Gregor Samsa awoke one morning from uneasy dreams he found himself transformed in his bed into a gigantic insect.”- The Metamorphosis and Other Stories, Franz Kafka Build Up the Characters Another prominent element of the story writing format, your characters will give structure, flair and flow to the narrative and thus need to be developed cautiously. Story Writing is a fictional writing method that is written in a simpler way and has its own natural flow. It elucidates upon the resolution of the conflict that you introduced as well as explores what your character learnt from the situational conflict or how they emerged from it. The first line of your story will set the tone of the plot, hook the reader and establish the voice of your narrative. Plot Courtesy: Imgur Once you have familiarised the reader with the setting and character, the next step is to work towards curating an intricate and engaging plot. Following a fixed structure can give more meaning to your story and make it more interesting. Further, ideas come with constant brainstorming, reading and writing and often if you are not getting the right ideas to form your narrative, you are surely facing a writer’s block. Through story writing, you share the experience of characters in a physical setting with a plot that makes it story-worthy, a conflict that causes a riff or relationship core of the characters, and finally the theme of the story as in what the story wants to share. Write a story about a character who reflects your personality. It is important that your written narrative has an “easily understandable grammatical structure” with “natural flow of speech” to help the reader comprehend it. All character names are always in uppercase. Ask a friend to read the story, get it reviewed and you can keep editing, adding to it and removing any additional paras until you feel good to go! How to Write Advanced Stories? The character names should always be positioned 3.7 inches from the left of the page. While most writers prefer to have a character as their protagonist, it is commonly not a necessity to do so. Try to impart the readers with a particular moral or message in the end.
